

stayed up at SDM but I have no finances, and the General say nothing about finances, so he told me, if I want ^{to} come, leave it to him and everything would be taken care of, and this he did, Then, then I later learned after I got into the new program, that I could finish the program, all the programs together, then a period of four years and that I did. But while studying I also learned that you received 12 degree, 12 units of credit for your, for your dissertation and then I worked hard and completed that a _____ of that, and after that I was able to finish with 18 hours above the required hours for the AM, BD, and SDM. Then later in 19 int 19 ah-h 1950, i returned to Oberlin to ^{study} for one year, I studied 12 months and took special courses under the, under the Professor of Socioligy, Professor of Philosophy and Professor of Theology within the Seminary. And then I _____ back.

nt: Do you know their names?

ar: Yea---Professor Barden, Professor Hamilton, Professor (spoke too low to hear) and others. I was assisted in a course of philosophy in college. Then after that I returned to active duty in the military, and I reported to 4th ^{and} and and Huston, Texas. Now I was able to work within the hospital and used some of the information which I had accumulated during the last 12 months in Oberlin. Then I left there, I went on to the be assigned other places into in the Service. And much of the information which I had received over the years from Oberlin and contact therein, I found to be very useful in my work, as a Chaplin, a administrator, and counselor. Then in 1968 on February the first, I ~~received~~ I retired after 30 years of continuous ^{and} military service and moved back to Oberlin college, over in the area where my wife and her family dwell.

Now you want to know something about the conditions to which we're faced?

nt: Yes.

ar: When I first came to ^{to} Oberlin, I was quite interested in the way in which
